ADVANCED DISCOVERY ANNOUNCES THE ADDITION OF JOHN VALENTA AS REGIONAL VICE PRESIDENT

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. – (September 1st, 2010) –Advanced Discovery announced today the hiring of John W. Valenta as Regional Vice President. Mr. Valenta is a highly experienced and successful leader in the business community bringing over 25 years of multi-industry experience. John began his career in this industry in 1993 after joining IKON Office Solutions. Over the next five years John transitioned across business lines in executive and regional roles and subsequently became a full partner. Under John’s direction as District Vice President of the Western United States corporate revenues soared and exceeded $900 million annually. Prior to joining Advanced Discovery John functioned as West Coast Regional President for American Reprographics. It is the largest reprographics company in the U.S, providing document management services to the architectural, engineering and construction industry, as well as to other industries that require sophisticated document management services. John’s primary role with Advanced Discovery will be to manage business development and operations for the company’s Pacific Northwest region with locations in San Francisco, Mountain View and San Jose.

“We are excited for John to join our team,” said Thadd Hale, COO of Advanced Discovery. “John’s long-term visionary leadership has allowed him to deliver strong performance results through aggressive sales growth, cost reduction, and process improvement. Having held high ranking positions in operations and executive-level management, John brings the proper experience needed to manage and expand our Pacific Northwest operation”.
